

Rollover Checklist

City and County of Honolulu Deferred Compensation Plan

Checklist for Retirees considering Rollover of Funds to Other Accounts

The following checklist is provided to assist you in your evaluation of whether to rollover funds from your City and County of Honolulu Deferred Compensation Plan account to another eligible employer sponsored retirement plan. Although the rollover of funds is not, by itself, a taxable event, or a traditional or Roth Individual Retirement Account/Annuity (IRA), when transferred directly from one plan to another, there can be many consequences related to this action. For example, contributions to 457 plans sponsored by governmental employers are not subject to the IRS 10% premature distribution penalty tax if taken before age 59½ or if another IRS exception applies. By contrast, non-457 amounts rolled into a governmental 457(b) plan and rollover amounts held in a 401(a), 401(k), or 403(b) plan or to a traditional or Roth IRA may be subject to the IRS 10% premature distribution penalty tax unless an IRS-permitted exception applies.

The purpose of this communication is to provide informal assistance in evaluating whether funds should be rolled over to another account. The list below summarizes some of the questions or issues we encourage you to ask of the plan administrator / broker of your new fund(s). For each question below we have also provided information on your incumbent plan for purposes of comparison.

Category – Question / Issue	Additional Information on Your Current Plan
Fund Performance
Are a broad, diverse variety of funds available to you in your new plan?	Your current plan offers numerous funds in each asset class to help provide variety both within and across asset classes to seek diversification based on individual preferences.
Are funds regularly reviewed against appropriate benchmarks to determine ongoing fund performance?	Your current plan provides a semi-annual fund performance analysis to assure that they remain competitive against their appropriate peer group. Under-performing funds are placed on probation (a watch-list), reviewed quarterly, and then eliminated if performance continues to remain uncompetitive.
Who conducts the review of fund performance?	Your employer has hired the services of a neutral third party consultant (the consultant is not associated with Voya) to perform an independent fund evaluation to help fulfill the Committee's due diligence regarding overall fund performance.
Is fund performance analysis provided to you routinely?	Fund performance is updated monthly and made available to all participants on the custom plan website. Please visit http://honolulu.beready2retire.com , go to My Retirement Accounts>Investments & Research .
Will your new plan representative/broker review fund performance with you individually and recommend alternative / diverse investments for your consideration?	With your current provider, individuals may contact representatives* to evaluate a) individual funds and b) the overall portfolio to determine whether investments are appropriately diversified, based on retirement objectives and risk tolerance. Investment advice services from a neutral third party (Morningstar) are also offered to assure that overall portfolio and individual investments are appropriate based on your objectives and needs.
